West Adventure - Part V

Breaking camp in Alturas California we headed north into Oregon on US 395. Since we needed an Oregon map, we stopped at the Lake County Chamber of Commerce in Lakeview. There we met a very nice lady that also rode a motorcycle and had a very nice conversation about the state. She also directed us to the local's diner where we had a very large breakfast for very little money!

Leaving Lakeview, we followed 395 to Rt. 20. This area is known as the Oregon Outback. It is high desert plateau averaging 4000 feet elevation. Mostly cattle ranches and wide-open space. Ended the day with 320 miles and was still in Oregon.

Leaving the campground in Vale, Oregon we followed US 20. According to Wikipedia US Route 20 is the longest road in the United States at 3,365 miles. Crossing Idaho on 20 was more high desert. It may be desert but not deserted as there were many cow ranches and irrigated hay fields. It takes a pile of hay to feed all the cows when winter comes to the high plains. After a stop at Craters of the Moon National Monument we arrived at Valley View Campground in Island Park, Idaho which is near the west entrance to Yellowstone National Park. 433 miles.

Next day we toured Yellowstone. Considering that it was mid-July the crowds weren't too bad. We got right through the gate and into the park. One thing that we noticed was the lack of wildlife, not just in the park but on the whole trip. The introduction of wolves into the park surely has an effect on numbers and the hard winter with deep snow reportedly caused a large die off all over the west. We exited the park at the northeast entrance and did see a lot of buffalo in that area.

Leaving Yellowstone, we crossed the Beartooth Highway which was a very scenic ride over the mountains and ended in Cody, Wyoming where we took a rest day and played tourist in town. 275 miles.

From Cody we were on the home stretch. Crossing Wyoming and trying to keep off of the interstate we missed a turn and ended up on a 18 mile dirt road! Talk about desolate, finally saw some ranches and knew we were saved! Came out right at a gas station back on our original route. Next night was spent at the Black Hills/Deadwood KOA. Went into town to look around a bit. Ended that day with 400 miles.

District Safety/Ride Coordinator Newsletter Article

Next day required a stop in Sturgis, SD for rally shirts then ended the day in Minnesota since we needed to snag that state. 431 miles.

Next day we made it to Hannibal, Missouri and stayed at Woodsy Acres Campground. This campground was a real no frills place! I called it a “hillbilly campground”. The sink in the bath house was a large, galvanized wash tub and the urinal was a large, galvanized funnel! And since the owners were heading into town when we arrived, we ended up leaving our payment in a coffee can by the office next morning because we left early. Longest day, 527 miles.

The next two days were just traveling to get home with 510 miles and 437 miles. So ended a great trip and great adventure. We had good weather with rain to start the trip and rain on the next to last day. The temperatures were moderate with no real hot temps for July. The trip total miles were 7600 and we visited 19 states and camped all but two nights. I figured I spent about $1800 but the memories are priceless.

Skills Training

As we approach the New Year now is a good time to think about brushing up on some of your riding skills. As we age, and as the weather gets colder and we ride less, our riding skills get rusty. Add to the fact that the most training that we had when starting riding was “here is the throttle, here is the clutch, here is the shifter and here is the rear brake. Don’t use the front brake because it will put you over the handlebars “. How did we ever survive this long with training like that?

Now with cooler weather here it is a good time to find a vacant lot and do some practice. Even a short ride to a lot to do some practice gets you out on the bike. Any ride is a good ride!

There are several places to get ideas for training. The EWMA website has many parking lot diagrams to set up practice. YouTube has many videos, type in ‘motorcycle training’. Ride Like a Pro Jerry Palladino has many good videos as well as others to get ideas from. And if any Chapter would like and can find a lot to use, I can look at setting up a PLP, Parking Lot Practice.

I have noticed that my U-turns aren’t as smooth as they used to be. So, it’s time for me to go to the local school that has a good lot and spend some time honing my skills to be ready for nice weather riding.

Remember “practice makes perfect”.
